

A map of the Democratic Republic of Congo with 26 sampling sites marked by numbered boxes. The sites are distributed across the country, with a higher concentration in the central and southern regions. The map is color-coded by region: North (light blue), West (light green), Center (light orange), East (light purple), and South (light yellow).